ABA welcomes Epiq as a sponsor of Re-Emerge 2022

14 February 2022

The Australian Bar Association is pleased to welcome Epiq as a Silver Sponsor of the ABA's national conference, Re-Emerge 2022, to be held in person in Melbourne and fully remotely from 28 to 30 April 2022.

Epiq is a worldwide provider of legal services to law firms, corporations, financial institutions and government, helping them streamline the administration of business operations, class action and mass tort claims, court reporting, eDiscovery, regulatory, compliance, restructuring and bankruptcy matters.

Re-Emerge 2022 will be the first gathering of the Australian Bar in more than two years. Epiq joins the ABA's Major Partners, The Australian Financial Review and Legal Homes Loans as a sponsor of this landmark conference.

Confirmed speakers include Professor Richard Susskind OBE, the Hon. James Allsop AO (Chief Justice of the Federal Court of Australia), the Hon. William Alstergren (Chief Justice of the Family and Federal Circuit Court of Australia), the Hon. Anne Ferguson (Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Victoria), the Hon. Senator Michaelia Cash (Commonwealth Attorney-General), the Hon. Jaclyn Symes (Victorian Attorney-General), the Hon. Mark Speakman (NSW Attorney-General), the Hon. John Quigley (WA Attorney-General), the Hon. Justices Gageler, Keane, Gordon and Steward (High Court of Australia) and many other senior members of the judiciary and legal profession and others taken from the apex of national life.

As part of its sponsorship, Epiq will provide transcripts of conference sessions.

ABA President Dr Matt Collins QC said, 'We are delighted to welcome Epiq as a sponsor of this much-anticipated conference at which the ABA will bring together leaders from the judiciary, the Bar, the legal profession, politics and the media from across Australia and internationally to reflect upon two momentous years dominated by COVID-19.'

Early-bird registrations are currently available for Re-Emerge 2022. For more information about the conference and to register, visit www.re-emerge2022.com.au.
